The Associateds make a bid for a few chips out of the Caldor record tonight. The oil team is in second place and the Caldors are tops.

PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO HEAR PRESBYTERIAL REPORT

The regular meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society of the Federated Church will be held on Thursday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. R. Rudkin, the parsonage. All interested are welcome to attend.

One of the matters of interest in the program will include reports by those from Placerville who spent Monday at Fair Oaks attending the meeting of the Presbyterian. These included Miss Alice Brown, Mrs. A. V. Smithson, Mrs. John Simpson, Mrs. James Walker, Mrs. Rudkin, Mrs. E. W. Zueger, Mrs. F. K. Romberg, Mrs. Max Bollman and Mrs. Martin Luther.

The Placerville delegation shared in the program, Miss Brown conducting the devotional service at the afternoon session; Mrs. Smithson conducting community singing and contributing a solo to the program; and Mrs. Luther speaking on "Stewardship."

The inspirational feature of the program was a talk by Mrs. Milligan, a missionary to China, who is at present awaiting sanction of the mission board to rejoin her husband in the China field.

JAPS RETREAT AFTER GAINS IN ISLANDS

MacArthur Forces Regain Positions Lost Earlier; Guerillas Hit Invaders

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
U. P. Foreign News Editor

American defenders of the Philippines today struck at the flank of a large-scale Japanese land and air offensive against a 3,500-mile Allied front guarding Singapore and the East Indies.

In "particularly savage fighting" on the Bataan Peninsula the forces of Gen. Douglas MacArthur beat back the Japanese and recaptured all positions lost earlier in the day with "very heavy" losses to the enemy, a war department communiqué disclosed.

The communiqué said MacArthur's guerillas in enemy-held territory of northern Luzon island had killed 110 Japanese and routed 300 others in a surprise attack on Tuguegarao airdrome, 50 miles south of Aparri. This attack, coupled with American resistance near Davao on Mindanao island, indicated that the threat to the Japanese flank was increasing on land as well as at sea, where U. S. airplanes and torpedo boats were striking effective blows.

Fleets of Japanese bombers, often accompanied by fighter planes, struck at the Bismarck and Admiralty Islands, British New Guinea, the Dutch East Indies and Singapore, which suffered a savage attack on civilian areas. These operations were costly for the Japanese, however, and about 18 other planes were reported brought down, including 12 at Singapore.

The immediate danger to Singapore continued grave, although the British defense lines appeared to be standing more firmly against Japanese infiltration and flanking maneuvers about 60 miles north of the big naval base.

In the Dutch islands, Japanese paratroops had occupied all of Minahassa on the northern tip of Celebes as enemy planes renewed attacks on Borneo and Medan port, on Sumatra.

Eastward in the British islands to the north of Australia, the Japanese sent a fleet of about 100 bombers (which yesterday suffered loss of three to six planes in attacks on Rabaul) into action again, striking at Kawling on Bismarck island, Lurungau on Admiralty island and Madang on New Guinea. These attacks, carrying the enemy offensive to within 275 miles of Australia, were much more intense than in the past.

Operations at sea also were in progress. (Continued on Page 10)

Pending the receipt of supplies and the resumption of the work program, the production headquarters in the War Veterans Memorial Building is open only on Thursdays.

Rural community chairmen in the production program include Mrs. Laura Elmendorf, at El Dorado; Mrs. Amy Drysdale, at Georgetown; Mrs. Edna Glenn, at Rescue; Mrs. Hattie Bennett, Kelsey; Mrs. Lora Gust, Diamond Springs; Mrs. Herman Thiele, Gold Hill; Mrs. William Dunn, Missouri Flat; Mrs. West, Fresh Pond; Mrs. Luella Baumgardner, Pollock Pines; Mrs. Charles MacLaughlin, Youngs; Mrs. Bob Fairburn, Camino; Mrs. John Keller, Lake Valley; and Mrs. Chaix, at Latrobe.

NEW SIGNUP OF ENEMY ALIENS

Registrants Must Present Photograph To Be Attached To Identification Papers

WASHINGTON—Attorney General Francis Biddle calls attention to new regulations affecting the conduct of German, Italian and Japanese nationals throughout continental United States.

The new regulations, issued under authority of the Presidential proclamation of January 14, relating to alien enemies, require all German, Italian and Japanese aliens to apply at the nearest first or second class, or county seat, post office for a Certificate of Identification. The requirement applies to all enemy nationals 14 years of age or over who have not yet taken the oath of allegiance before a federal judge, the final step in acquiring American citizenship.

The identification program, which will affect approximately 1,100,000 German, Italian and Japanese non-citizens, will be directed by Earl G. Harrison, former director of alien registration and now a special assistant to the attorney general advising on alien problems.

The regulations provide that all German, Italian and Japanese nationals residing in the state of California are required to file applications at the nearest first or second class, or county seat, post office between February 2 and February 7, 1942, inclusive.

Failure to comply with the new regulations may be punished by severe penalties, including possible internment of the enemy alien for the duration of the war.

The regulations require enemy aliens, in applying for identification certificates, to provide a photograph of themselves (to be attached to the identity card) and to answer a number of questions concerning their current activities. Printed directions for the filing of applications will shortly be available at post offices.

The regulations provide that after a careful check has been made of each application, the applicant will be provided with a Certificate of identification bearing his photograph, index finger and signature. He will thereafter be required to carry the certificate with him at all times.

WHO MUST FILE A RETURN

For Federal income tax purposes, widows, divorcees, and married persons separated by mutual consent are classed as single persons. These, with those who have never been wedded, whose gross income was $750 or more for the taxable year—that is, whose gross income was as much as $1443 a week for the 52 weeks of the year—must file an income tax return. Every married person, living with husband or wife, if no joint return is made, who has a gross income of $1,500 or more for the taxable year—that is, who has a gross income of as much as $28.85 a week for the year—must also file an income tax return. If the husband and wife each has an income and their aggregate gross income is $1,000 or more for the taxable year—that is, their aggregate gross income is as much as $28.85 a week for the year—they must file an income tax return.

Husband and wife living together at the close of the taxable year may file a single joint return (even though one has no gross income), or make separate returns of the income of each. If separate returns are filed, one may not report income which belongs to the other, but report only the income which actually belongs to him. If a joint return is filed, the aggregate income disclosed is subject to both the normal tax and the surtax. The liability with respect to the tax on a joint return is joint and several. A joint return may not be made if either husband or wife is a non-resident alien.

If a joint return is not made by an agent of the taxpayers, it must be signed by both husband and wife and sworn to before a proper officer by the spouse preparing the return.

Where separate returns are filed by husband and wife on Form 1040, the joint personal exemption of $1,500 may be taken by either or divided between them in any proportion as agreed upon, but if either or both spouses make a return on Form 1040A, each spouse is treated as a single person and entitled to a personal exemption of $750 only.

Husband and wife may elect each year to file a joint return or separate returns. Where, however, joint or separate returns have been filed for a particular year, neither husband nor wife may, after the due date of return, file an amended return or returns on the other basis for that year.

Irene Duff has brought suit for divorce from James Henry Duff, charging cruelty. Papers state the pair wed at Bristol, Virginia, June 30, 1910, separated August 20, 1936, have no community property and have three children, all adults.

HOPE FOR UNITY AGAINST AXIS INCREASES

Argentina, Chile Are Reported Willing To Compromise In Stand

RIO DE JANEIRO, (U.P.)—Argentina was reported today to have agreed to a compromise on the resolution for a joint severance of all relations with the Axis nations by the 21 American republics.

The compromise, it was understood, was drafted by Foreign Minister Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil with the approval of the United States delegation, to permit Argentina to "save her face" in the light of her strong opposition to the resolution.

The compromise would permit the American republics to submit the severance resolution to a referendum of the cabinets and congresses of their respective countries, thus giving each country freedom of action but achieving a unanimous vote on the measure in the conference of foreign ministers.

One conference source explained that the original resolution would have required that the approval of the American governments anyhow.

It was believed that Chile also would agree to the reported compromise rather than remain the lone holdout, inasmuch as Chilean objections to the original resolution were similar to those of Argentina. In Chile's case the domestic political situation is complicated by the presidential campaign terminating with the Feb. 1 elections.

Before the compromise was reported, drastic attempts were made by some delegates to force a showdown on the resolution. Both Argentina and Chile had joined, with reservations, in the economic and solidarity projects while holding out against a break in relations with the Axis.

Tomorrow was regarded as the deadline for an unequivocal yes or no to the resolution. After that, the other 19 American republics will approve it and let Argentina and Chile go their way to isolation from their neighbors if they choose not to unite.

PROFITEERING IN DEFENSE CLAIMED

House Naval Affairs Group Sees Need To Curb Industry And Labor

By JAMES R. SHEPLEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (U.P.)—The house naval affairs committee today recommended enactment of legislation to stamp out profiteering, charging that industry and labor alike have attempted to enrich themselves with defense contracts.

"Excessive and unconscionable" profits of American industries—some ranging up to 247 per cent and "many profits of 50 per cent or more"—and an "astounding concentration of wealth" in labor unions—with 117 unions reporting assets of $82,594,959, an increase during 18 months of $10,689,294—were highlights of a report of the committee's investigation of the greatest naval building program in history.

The committee recommended congressional action to block methods by which corporations and labor unions have fattened their treasuries at the expense of the taxpayer. Chairman Carl Vinson, D., Ga., planned to submit legislation along those lines to the house soon.

The report was signed by only 14 of the 27 members of the committee. Seven signed a dissenting view on the "conclusion and statements regarding labor." Another member, Rep. Joseph B. Shannon, D., Mo., filed a separate minority report demanding that all of the report dealing with labor be eliminated.

The committee recommended: For industry—"That some method of profit limitation should be adopted to eliminate profiteering on defense contracts . . . to prevent excessive and unconscionable profits. Such measures are owed to the public which bears the enormous tax burden of defense costs."

For labor unions—"That suitable legislation be enacted requiring all labor unions to register with a suitable government agency and to furnish pertinent information concerning their officers, members and financial condition at periodic intervals." It recommended passage of a law to curb strikes which the committee blamed for delay in two-ocean navy construction.

The report was based on replies to questionnaires sent to naval contractors and labor unions and examination of contracts and navy department records.

The committee said it considered seven per cent a "fair and just return" on defense contracts, and then listed examples of what it termed "excessive profits."

Teaching the Baby To Build

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

The child from one to two years of age is more interested in destroying than in building. He can cause something to happen when he tears things apart or knocks them to pieces. To do so gives him a sense of power. Left alone with a few blocks he will, without teaching, learn to put them together for himself.

Parents, notably fathers, are inclined to build up things for the baby to knock down. Observing the joy the child gets in doing so, the parent is tempted to go on at this sort of amusement over a period of months, even years. This is not good for the child. It is teaching him the very thing he should not learn. If the child is to acquire the ability to amuse himself he must learn to find enjoyment in construction. If, therefore, the parent is going to help the child at all with blocks, he should help him build.

Without punishment, but with gentle restraining and skillful suggestion the baby can be taught to desist from knocking down the structure, but instead to take the blocks down carefully, one by one.

The usual cubical blocks are not the best. There should be some oblongs, two or three times as long as square on the end. A few strips six inches or longer are also desirable. There should be several pieces of the same dimension. Parents or older children can, with a saw and plane, easily make the best kind of simple building material for the child under three or four.

Frail toys encourage destructiveness. As soon as a toy is broken, either remove it, or repair it at once. A few very substantial toys are better than many fragile ones.

When the child deliberately breaks a toy or dashes it to pieces, better punish him immediately, but be sure first that it was not an accident. Remember that "careful" may not mean the same to the child as it means to you.

Some parents desiring to encourage the child's curiosity, allow him to take toys apart. Some older children, accordingly, remove the wheels from their wagon or tricycle about as soon as they get it. To do so is not good for the child unless he can replace it intact.

Rarely can anyone put such toys together well after disassembling them. The older children will profit from the use of construction sets that are not too hard for them, provided that they are taught to take good care of the parts.

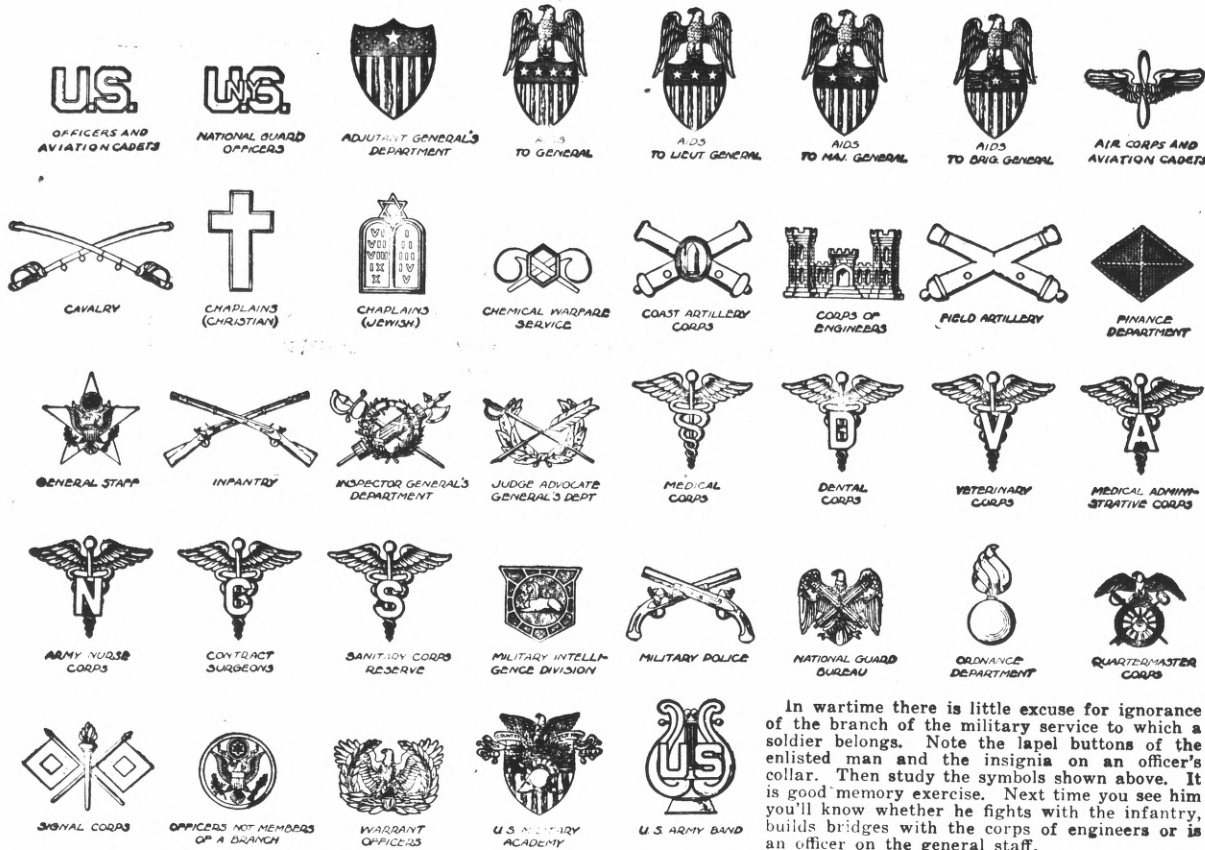

Measurements for a home-made set of blocks may be had without cost by writing me at 235 E. 45th St., New York City, enclosing self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. What's a good rule for grandparents to observe when in the home of a grandchild?

A. Act as honored guests. Take no responsibility for the child's management except when asked by the parents to do so; offer no advice to the parents unless requested to give it.

Shimada's boast—which the operations of the United States Navy in protecting such outposts as Johnston Island proved false—was made in a summary of alleged naval successes against the American fleet.

On the Russian front, the Red army was charging westward after recapturing the key city of Moshaisk—an area of ruin—about 60 miles from Moscow.

German forces are "falling back in panic" west of Moshaisk, according to Moscow broadcasts, but there is no definite indication of how far or how fast the Russians had advanced to the west. Russian reserves were being sent into the battle along Napoleon's road.

Try Weiners For a Change

By BETSY NEWMAN

WEINERS are good eating and a nice change from the usual roasts, chops and steaks. The new skinless style weiners are an improvement over the old ones and more digestible, I believe.

Today's Menu

Weiners and Sauerkraut
Boiled Potatoes
Tossed Vegetable Salad
Banana Apple Scallop
Coffee

Weiners and Sauerkraut

Allow 2 or 3 weiners per person and about 1/2 to 1 cup of sauerkraut for each. Arrange alternate layers of sauerkraut and weiners in baking dish and bake for from 45 minutes to 1 hour.

Banana Apple Scallop

Start apples, 1/2 tsp. cinnamon
8 firm yellow bananas, peeled
8 cups soft bread crumbs
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 tsp. salt

Slice apples and cut bananas into 1/2 inch pieces. Combine fruit, sugar, cinnamon and salt. Mix bread crumbs with salt and place alternate layers of crumbs and fruit in a well-buttered baking dish, using crumbs for top and bottom layers. Cover baking dish and bake in moderate oven (375° F.) about 40 minutes, or until apples are tender, then uncover and bake 5 minutes more to brown crumbs. Serve hot with whipped cream or fruit sauce. CALIFORNIA FARM PARADE

Farm officials look for a 25 per cent increase in farm prices this year over 1941 regardless of price controls. That will mean extra cash for the average farmer.

Today's prices may not improve much. In fact, if prices are fixed, and it seems certain they will be, it's pretty sure that there will be very few important increases over the present level. Some prices may be forced lower.

Present prices are far above the 1941 average. They are almost up to the parity level now or about 25 per cent above the average for last year. Five dollars for every four received last year will come in handy this year.

Of course, prices farmers will have to pay will go up some, too. But this advance in expenses should be more than offset by the increase in farm production. Not only will farmers be getting one-fourth higher prices for their products, they will be selling more.

Among the different farm products, livestock will probably bring the best returns this year. Increased demand for meat, eggs and dairy products will insure good returns for unlimited amounts of these.

Even if prices on some of these livestock products go still higher, consumer demand should continue strong. War needs are taking many things off the market so that people just can't buy all they want of certain products. That leaves more money to spend somewhere else.

Food is one of the first places that extra money will go. So whether pork chops go to 40 cents a pound or not won't make a whole lot of difference in the number of pork chops eaten.

Prices for rice, sugar cane and sugar beets are certain to go some higher—probably as high as price fixing will allow. All production restrictions on these crops have been removed. Farmers can produce as much as they want to of them... the more the better.

Although cotton has been on the strict surplus list for a long time, record mill consumption has put demand at a new high level and prices are sure to follow. There will be big premiums this year for long staple cotton that is needed in very large quantities—larger than before.

A crop not usually classed as important is getting special attention these days. Production of dry beans in 1942 will set a new all-time record. More than a million tons of beans will be raised.

Our troops are west of the city and have moved into the southeast and northwest outskirts. Dealing sparingly with the lives of their fighters, Soviet commanders refrain from frontal attacks which would be costly in lives and material. They take towns and villages by outflanking them.

The system of fortifications in Minsk is strong. The city contains a vast quantity of munitions — which had been intended for the campaign against Moscow.

The battle rages as the Germans attempt to remove their stuff. They fire almost constantly. Defend the warm houses, they are inspired with fear of abandoning them and going out to die in the cold.

The offensive began here Jan. 7. On Jan. 10 the enemy's front was breached. Each day means five or ten kilometers (4 to 6 miles) of liberated soil. This is not the end, but it is the beginning of the end.

The glow of two fires illuminates the night. Two villages in the vicinity of Minsk, villages which the Germans abandoned and set fire to today, are burning.

I drove today along the Minsk highway—from the former line of the front to the outskirts of Minsk, about 40 kilometers (25 miles).

Everywhere I saw ashes and ruin, all that is left of villages destroyed by Germans. In one village, among the burned down houses, is the half charred corpse of a German. A not clear it, but used the sleighs of peasants for delivery of food and supplies.

They laid mines everywhere.

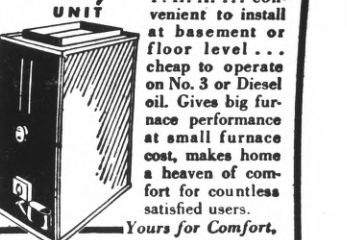

Now it is possible to obtain some idea of German losses during the advance in Moscow. Near Dorokhovo there are whole fields of crosses, reminiscent of a war cemetery I saw in northern France in 1916, except that the crosses are adorned with the swastika.

Some of the crosses bear French names. Here a French legion, recruits by Pierre Laval and Jacques Doriot, was defeated. They fought in German uniforms and are buried under German crosses.

WAR'S IMPETUS FOR DEMAND IN MERCHANTABLE TIMBER MAKES WORK OF FOREST INSTITUTE IMPORTANT TO REFORESTATION

R. H. Weidman, field superintendent of the Institute of Forest Genetics, was the guest speaker at the Soroptimist Club luncheon Wednesday noon.

Mr. eWidman spoke of the institute and its purpose.

The breeding of trees for improvement of yield and rapid growth, the elimination of disease and stem rust, and the lessening of susceptibility to frost, are some of the fields in which research is carried on.

By VERA WINSTON

IN MANY sections of the country the fur trimmed suit fashioned of woolen is worn during all but the very coldest of weather. This smart model is of dark green woolen and the snug jacket is embellished with a supple collar of sable dyed kofinsky. It closes over a snug bodice with three self buttons. The skirt is straight in pleasing contrast to the jacket peplum which is full and rippled with a fur border. The top is of white satin with long sleeves.
